Unique, Boutique New Zealand

They say you shouldn't leave home until you've seen the country. Exploring one's own country means less travelling, and more time to explore. It is an opportunity to experience and learn more about our culture, history and our treasured biodiversity. It refreshes our eyes and heart and feeds our pride.

Seabourn showcases New Zealand superbly in this 16-day Australia and New Zealand voyage, departing 6th January 2023 from Sydney onboard the elegant, spacious, luxurious small ship Seabourn Odyssey. With just 450 guests, plentiful crew to look after your every need, a spacious suite all with expansive ocean views or veranda's, Seabourn Odyssey extends a heartfelt welcome to guests after an excitable day exploring ashore. Gourmet dining, fine wines and spirits, attentive crew, informative lectures and enrichment programs and sophisticated entertainment, your beautiful floating hotel will add another very pleasurable dimension and experience to your holiday. The voyage melds cultural and university cities with small island ports, fiords with historic towns, and will take you from vineyards to high country stations, national parks to gardens of national significance.

Included in the voyage is 3 stops in Australia, your first port of call after departing Sydney is Phillip Island, infamous for its rambunctious little blue penguins, explore the arcades and alleyways of elegant Melbourne, or the vineyards, wildlife and national parks of the countryside. In Fiordland Mists hang, waters fall and primeval forest stands in this truly beautiful, green treasure of ours. Stewart Island is small with a big welcome, Blue Cod and hot chips in Oban is a must, so too is a visit to Ulva Island, a predator free sanctuary and a botanical explosion of verdant flora and fluttering fauna.

Explore Dunedin, Gaelic for Edinburg with its Scottish heritage architecture. Have a whale of a time in the whale town of Kaikoura. From Picton guests can explore the Abel Tasman National Park or sample some of the best wine produced in the Southern Hemisphere in the plentiful vineyards.

We invite you to join Seabourn on this splendid voyage of discovery.

ITINERARY

Day 1: Sydney, Australia

Sydney is a cosmopolitan, multicultural city surrounded by golden sand beaches, World Heritage areas, lush national parks and acclaimed wine regions. Sydney owes much of its splendor to its magnificent harbor. Arriving by ship provides an unequalled impression, showing off the city's famous landmarks: the dramatic white sails of the iconic Opera House and the celebrated Harbor Bridge, looming over the skyline.

Day 2: Phillip Island, Victoria, Australia

At the Conservation Centre, view koalas at tree-top level on a skywalk, and attend the sunset "Parade" when Little Penguins waddle from the sea to their nests among the dunes.

Day 3: Melbourne, Australia

Located at the mouth of the Yarra River, Melbourne was founded by free settlers in 1835, 47 years after the first European settlement in Australia. Transformed rapidly into a major metropolis by the Victorian gold rush in the 1850s, Melbourne became Australia's largest and most important city, and by 1865 was the second largest city in the British Empire. Today, Melbourne is a major center of commerce, industry and cultural activity, and is consistently ranked as one of the most livable cities in the world.

Day 4-6: Days At Sea

Enjoy all the onboard luxuries that Seabourn Odyssey has to offer.

Day 7: Milford Sound, New Zealand

Milford Sound is a fjord in the south west of New Zealand's South Island, off the Tasman Sea. Part of the Fjordland National Park and the Te Wahipounamu World Heritage site, it has been judged one of the world's top travel destinations in an international survey. Frequently visited by rain, the mountain peaks rising from the waters of Milford Sound are often softened by mist and an air of almost flawless and overpowering mystic calm. Acclaimed as New Zealand's most famous tourist destination.

Day 8: Cruising Fiordland National Park

New Zealand's Fiordland National Park is the largest of the country's 14 national parks, at 4,868 sq. mi./12,607 sq. km. Located on the southwest corner of the South Island, it was founded in 1904, to protect the natural environment for nature lovers and trekkers. It comprises a large portion of the Te Wahipounamu UNESCO World Heritage Site. The key features of the park are the mountain ranges of the Southern Alps, which rise to heights from 1,500 m/4,900 ft to over 2,500 m/8,200 ft., as well as the spectacular U-shaped glaciated fjord valleys that cut into the mountains as deeply as 25 miles from the sea. There are three major fjords that are navigable by your ships, Milford Sound, Doubtful Sound and Dusky Sound. Your exact itinerary will be determined by your captain depending on the weather and other conditions on the day. But whatever course you sail, you will be treated to spectacular waterways curving between sheer cliffs towering thousands of feet above the mirrored surface of the fjord.

Day 9: Oban (Halfmoon Bay), New Zealand

You might not realize that New Zealand has a third island. It hangs beneath the South Island and is just about the last inhabited place before Antarctica. The island itself is only about four percent inhabited, and that is its attraction. It is an unspoiled piece of primeval New Zealand. Oban is a very small town, about 800 souls. The phonebook is printed on a single sheet of A4 paper!

Day 10: Port Chalmers (Dunedin), New Zealand

Port Chalmers is the main port for the city of Dunedin. Situated in a natural amphitheater at the head of a long fjord-like inlet, Dunedin was the first permanent European settlement in New Zealand, founded in 1848. Not long afterwards, gold was discovered in the region, and the province quickly became the richest and most influential in the colony. While Christchurch is New Zealand's most English town, Dunedin is its most Scottish; the name Dunedin is the old Gaelic name for Edinburgh.

Day 11: Timaru, New Zealand

South of the Canterbury Plain on the South Island, Timaru is built on the rolling volcanic hills surrounding Mt. Horrible. Originally a whaling station, it grew to serve the sheep stations in the surrounding countryside. Visit the South Canterbury Museum, filled with artifacts and information about the history of the region from the Maori arrival to the present day, and the Aigantighe Art Gallery, housed in a homestead dating from 1908.

Day 12: Kaikoura, New Zealand

Kaikoura draws visitors from all over the world for the prolific marine life in the surrounding waters. Whale (including sperm whales), dolphin and seal watching tours operate year-round. There is a scenic walkway from the town center out to Point Kean, and there are colonies of fur seals on the rocky shores. The Fyffe House is a 19th century home built on a foundation of whale bones, with a museum of whaling history. It's also famous for fresh seafood including crayfish (known elsewhere as spiny lobsters) and the delicious Paua (also known as abalone.)

Day 13: Picton, New Zealand

Picton sits at the head of the Queen Charlotte Sound and the sail into and out of town will reveal some classic New Zealand scenery. The town offer access to the Marlborough wine country, other spectacular sounds and lots of outdoor activities such as kayaking, fishing, trekking and cycling.

Day 14: Wellington, New Zealand

Visually stunning, Wellington is nestled between a magnificent harbor and a natural amphitheatre of forest-clad hills. Its compact size, combined with cultural sophistication, makes it New Zealand's most inspiring urban destination. Wellington's cultural crowning jewel is Te Papa, a donation-only museum that celebrates Australasian natural history, science and culture. Exhibits include Maori artifacts, an extensive Pacific Cultures collection and interactive science exhibits. The city's art scene is flourishing, with numerous galleries and craft markets displaying the work of the country's top artists and craftspeople.

Day 15: Day At Sea

Enjoy all the onboard luxuries that Seabourn Odyssey has to offer.

Day 16: Matiatia Bay, Waiheke Island, New Zealand

Waiheke is an upscale resort community offshore from Auckland in the Hauraki Gulf, with renowned wineries, olive groves, art galleries, boutiques and restaurants. It is a favorite of affluent Aucklanders for weekend getaways and short vacations, just 35 minutes by ferry from the city. Seabourn called there years ago but has not been back for many years. It was a highlight during earlier visits.

Day 17: Auckland, New Zealand

Auckland is one of the few cities in the world to have harbors on two separate bodies of water. The central part of urban Auckland covers a narrow isthmus between the Manukau Harbor on the Tasman Sea, and the Waitemata Harbor on the Pacific Ocean.
